

Lawrence Inks Compact

HARRISBURG (AP) — With a stroke of his pen, Gov. Lawrence Friday completed the final act necessary for Pennsylvania to join in the interstate development of the Delaware River watershed.

Lawrence formally signed into law an act of the legislature permitting Pennsylvania to join with New York, New Jersey, Delaware and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in the Delaware River Compact. It is a program designed to cost many millions of dollars and extend over a period of up to 50 years.

Serves 22 Million

The watershed now serves some 22 million people. It is expected to provide for 30 million by 1980.

"With adoption of this act by Pennsylvania and by the United States House of Representatives last week, only passage by the United States Senate, and signature by the President remains in order to bring the compact into being," Lawrence said in a statement.

The other states have already agreed to the compact. The plan must be approved in identical form by all of the states to become effective.

Each of the states and the federal government would have equal representation on the compact's controlling agency, the proposed Delaware River basin commission.

Other bills signed into law by the governor Friday will:

- Require cotton fabrics used in state institutions to be treated so as to resist fire.

- Set a registration fee of $16 for buses operated by mass transportation systems. The present fee is set on a sliding scale.
- Authorize the governor during an emergency to transfer unused appropriations into a special disaster relief fund limited at $5 million.
- Allow performances of drama and civic light opera in Pittsburgh on Sundays between 2 P.M. and midnight, provided they are conducted by non profit corporations.

GOVERNOR DAVID L. LAWRENCE yesterday signed the Delaware River Compact authorizing Pennsylvania to join in a four-state agreement with the Federal Government to develop the water resources of the Delaware Basin. At the signing, front row, left to right, were John P. Robin, president of the Water Research Foundation of the Delaware River Basin; Lawrence; State Sen. Leonard C. Staissy, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Forests and Waters. In the rear, left to right: Sen. William V. Mullen, of Philadelphia; Walter M. Phillips, executive secretary of the Delaware River Basin Advisory Committee; and Sen. Charles M. Weiner, of Philadelphia, Senate Majority Leader. Now approved by Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, and Delaware, as well as the House of Representatives in Congress, the legislation awaits action by the U.S. Senate. If approved it will be the first such compact in the nation's history.

State Slashes Building Program By $9.9 Million

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate State Government Committee stripped $9.9 million Friday from the huge $244 million state building program.

The projects removed were pet items inserted by the House before it passed that chamber a month ago.

The committee's action moved the bill before the full Senate for further action. The House will have to give its assent to the revisions, however, before legislative action is completed.

Among the items removed were:

- $1.5 million for a state park in Bucks County at the site of the Logan Estate.

- $2.75 million for boating and recreation facilities in Jefferson, Luzerne, Somerset, Lancaster, Northampton, Bucks, Erie, Allegheny, Beaver, Butler, Westmoreland and Indiana counties.
- $2.75 million for an athletic field and gymnasium at Clarion State College.
- 2.1 million for an athletic field at Indiana State College.
- $79,736 for land acquisition at Slippery Rock State College.
- $76,483 for a driver examination center at Johnstown.

The proposed expenditure for the Ryerson Station State Park in Greene County was trimmed from $407,916 to $230,956.

All the boating and recreation projects inserted by the House were removed from the measure.

Senate majority leader Charles R. Weiner said the committee's action put the program back in the form proposed originally by the State Planning Board.

The program will be financed through the General State Authority—the Commonwealth's borrow-to-build agency—through bond issues. The bill increases the authority's bond issuing power to finance these projects.

The Senate met for a little under two hours today, then recessed until Monday, when the House also will return.

'Most Wanted' Was A Phila. Baby Sitter

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Kenneth Holbeck Sharp, a baby sitter who turned out to be one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, was released from federal custody Friday to allow the state of Illinois to try and extradite him.

Sharp, 29, was arrested here last Monday while baby sitting for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bloom with whom he had been living and for whom he worked the past five years.

U.S. Commissioner W. Halton Spann was asked to free Sharp from a federal warrant charging he fled Chicago across state lines to avoid prosecution in a robbery-murder.

U.S. Atty. Joseph S. Lord said Sharp was discharged, local authorities would arrest him as the first step in Illinois' plan to extradite him. Spann agreed.

Detective Frank McGurk immediately stepped up and handed the commissioner a new warrant issued by a local magistrate.

The Blooms were in the courtroom still unbelieving that the man they had housed for five years and entrusted many times with the care of their children, was a wanted criminal.

He was good... He was kind... He was just like one of the family... The kids miss him already," Mrs. Bloom, 28, had said when he was arrested. The Blooms said then they would stand behind him even to the extent of selling their home to pay his legal expenses.

Known as Bryan Brenton here, Sharp had been hiding from the FBI for nine years. He was wanted in the holdup-slaying of a service station attendant.

New Haven Folds Into Bankruptcy

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The debt-burdened New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, long a butt of commuter jokes, folded into reorganization proceedings Friday and asked a federal court to take over.

The court did so immediately, directing the railroad to continue to "run, manage, maintain and operate" to close its books at the end of business Friday, and open a fresh start Saturday.

The directive from U.S. Dist. Judge Robert P. Anderson, who long has been familiar with the New Haven's financial problems, mentioned no curtailment of service. The line carries 30,000 commuters a day.

New Haven President George Alpert said federal court proceedings for the railroad's reorganization make possible continuation of service "temporarily, at least."

The railroad's petition for reorganization under the Federal Bankruptcy Act, less than 24 hours after its bid for a $5.5-million government loan was turned down, cited debts far exceeding its ability to repay. It said it was at least $24 million shy of being able to meet its obligations.

The New Haven's petition listed a total of $33.48 million in taxes, maturities, interest, and lines and equipment rentals as due by Jan. 1, 1962. And it said it would have available at that time only about $9.26 million.

Judge Anderson's order blocked all creditors from collecting from the railroad or attaching the New Haven's property.

He set Aug. 1 as the date for the court hearing at which "one or more trustees of the debtor's property" will be named.

About 250 Men British Group Leaves Kuwait

KUWAIT (AP) — The British pulled their Coldstream Guardsmen out of Kuwait Friday night. They were flown to Bahrain Island, the British base in the Persian Gulf.

The guardsmen left less than a week after the British build-up in Kuwait started and less than 18 hours after its completion.

The British move had been undertaken after Iraq's Premier Abdel Karim Kassem had threatened to annex the rich oil sheikdom at the head of the gulf.

The transfer to Bahrain, about 300 miles southeast of Kuwait City, involved about 250 men. British forces here totaled 5,000 men, with air and naval support.

Bahrain is an Arab oil sheikdom under British protection—just as Kuwait was until it recently was granted independence and subsequently was claimed by Kassem as part of Iraq.

Discoverer No. 26 Heads For Hawaii

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The 26th Discoverer satellite-rocket shot aloft Friday with a 300-pound parcel of "space mail" destined for Hawaii.

Contents of the parcel were stamped "secret" by the Air Force, which is trying to perfect a way to return film and other records from Samos and Midas "spy" satellites.

The kittle-drum shaped capsule is in the nose of the 25-foot-long second stage of the 81-foot rocket, which roared into the sky at 4:30 p.m.

The second stage rocket fired on schedule.

If Discoverer XXVI goes into orbit—only seven have failed to do so—the capsule is to be ejected some time within the next four days and recovered near Hawaii. Three capsules were caught in the air and two others were fished from the ocean.

Recovery of the last capsule June 18 by parachuting skin divers flown to the impact area 300 miles short of the target prompted the Air Force to boast: "We know now we can get anything that comes back from outer space."

The 2,450-pound Discoverer probably carries, in addition to the capsule, secret gear being tested for future photographic and missile-detection satellites.

Big Four Completes Draft For Their Berlin Proposal

Atlas Zooms 9,050 Miles To New Mark

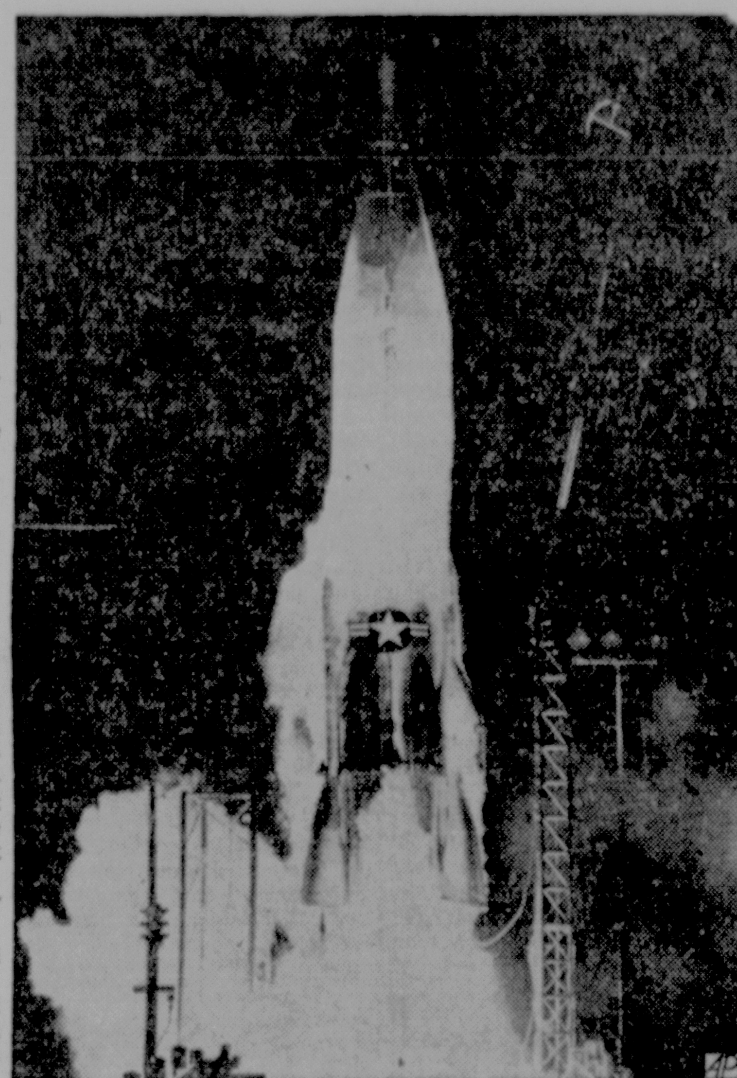

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — More long-range shots are on tap for an advanced Atlas missile which Friday cracked the distance mark for a military rocket with a 9,050-mile flight into the Indian Ocean.

The massive intercontinental-range missile thundered away from Cape Canaveral just before midnight Thursday night and propelled its nose cone into the sea 1,000 miles southeast of Capetown, South Africa, 53 minutes later. The Atlas reached top speed of more than 17,000 miles an hour on the over-water flight.

The test exceeded by 10 miles the longest previous surface-to-surface missile flights. Two earlier Atlases did the trick last year. But this was the first time the improved Atlas "E" rocket achieved a long-range success. The longest known Soviet military missile test was 8,000 miles.

Air Force officials breathed easier after Friday's success. They had been frankly worried about troubles which had caused seven of 10 previous E Atlases to fail.

Technicians studying data radioed back from the flight said everything looked perfect. An official for General Dynamics-Astronautics which makes the Atlas, said he hoped the shot marked the end of the missile's problems.

HEADING FOR LONG FLIGHT — An Atlas missile blasts off from Cape Canaveral on start of successful 9,050-mile flight — the longest surface-to-surface rocket flight on record. The Atlas nose cone plunked on target in the Indian Ocean about 1,000 miles southeast of Capetown, South Africa.

Soviet Vetoes Britain's Bid

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union killed by veto Friday a British resolution urging the U. N. Security Council to guarantee the independence of Kuwait.

The veto was followed by defeat of a United Arab Republic resolution demanding immediate withdrawal of British troops from the oil rich desert sheikdom.

The 11-nation council thus wound up four days of debate unable to agree on any course of action to settle the dispute set off by Iraq's claim to Kuwait.

Soviet Delegate Platon D. Morozov cast the 56th veto by his country in the council to defeat the British resolution calling upon all states to respect Kuwait's independence and territorial integrity. It also took note of the British pledges to remove the troops whenever the ruler of Kuwait considered the threat to his country's security ended.

Recruits Hit By Lightning; 4 Are Killed

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Four recruits were killed and 15 others injured when lightning struck a group of 20 Ft. Benning soldiers moving toward cover during a thunderstorm today.

The base public information officer said the men were going through rifle training at a remote range on this sprawling military reservation when the thunderstorm struck.

The recruits suspended the training and were heading for cover when lightning struck a tree and ricocheted into the group of 20 soldiers.

Officers and noncommissioned officers in the field began immediately to administer first aid and artificial respiration, the officer said. A rescue squad dispatched by helicopter reached the scene approximately 15 minutes later.

The recruits were members of the 9th Infantry, 2nd Infantry Division and were undergoing basic training.

Names of the dead and injured are being withheld pending notification of next of kin. The PIO said none of the 15 soldiers admitted to Martin Army Hospital is believed to be seriously injured.

Hemingway's Wife Gives Facts Today

By WILLIAM BEBOUT

KETCHUM, Idaho (AP) — The widow of author Ernest Hemingway indicated through friends Friday that she will meet with four newsmen Saturday to clear up what she termed "historical inaccuracies."

The interview was arranged through Dorice Taylor, publicity director at Sun Valley resort.

The widow of the famed author has been in seclusion since his death last Sunday of a shotgun wound in the head. She left the family home only to attend his funeral Thursday, and she had refused to talk with reporters.

A list of questions prepared by the newsmen was submitted to Mrs. Hemingway Friday afternoon.

The questions generally concern the status of his works—whether he has completed any writings which are unpublished—and concerning his health prior to his death.

There have been many reports that he was in poor health, leading to speculation that he may have taken his own life.

Emmett Watson, writer for the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, said in a copyright story Friday that Hemingway placed the shotgun muzzle in his mouth and killed himself. Watson did not disclose his source.

But Coroner Ray McGoldrick has insisted that there were no witnesses and it can never be established beyond doubt whether the shooting was an accident or suicide.

The four newsmen who will meet Mrs. Hemingway are William Bebout of The Associated Press, who drafted some of the questions and asked Mrs. Hemingway to give the interview; Watson; Barry Farrell of Time, Inc.; and Richard Charnock, United Press International.

Joint Reply Will Be Sent To Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western Big Four powers Friday completed the draft of their proposed answer to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's latest pronouncement on West Berlin.

Officials said the proposed joint reply will be sent to Paris, perhaps Saturday, for a final check-over by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization before being sent to Moscow, probably late next week.

Authoritative sources said the West stands firm on its rights in West Berlin but leaves the door open for further discussions with the Soviet Union on the cold war danger spot.

James Hoffa Re-Elected For 5 Years

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — James R. Hoffa, who never finished grade school, Friday was elected by acclamation to a new five-year term as Teamsters Union president with a free ticket to conduct union affairs.

Hoffa was declared elected unanimously over his only opponent, Milton J. Liss, president of Newark, N. J., Local 478, who withdrew halfway through a tedious roll-call of the 2,000 Teamsters convention delegates.

Liss, with only 15 votes, including his own, said the balloting had been fair as well as decisive. He praised the 48-year-old Hoffa and said the Teamster chief's greatest past mistake had been "over-loyalty to some friends who took advantage of him."

In thanking the delegates, most of them trusted lieutenants, for their barrage of votes, Hoffa said he was going to work with whatever brains and ability "I have to win them better pay and other gains, regardless of criticism."

Referring to the series of court charges and investigations that have plagued him for nearly four years, Hoffa said it had been no picnic.

"It will continue," he said, "but nobody's nervous about it."

Earlier the delegates voted a series of rules changes vesting even greater union powers in Hoffa, boosting his salary to $75,000 a year, and levying higher dues on the 1.7 million union membership.

Hoffa warned that American labor is again moving in a declining cycle and faces loss of constitutional guarantees such as free assembly, majority vote and all the principles that we preach to the world.

"So I say to our enemies and to our employers, while we will endeavor to be fair, to be honest, we will reserve the right to get for our members the highest standard of living, the best conditions, of any labor union in the world," he said.

Before ending the 5-day convention, delegates also re-elected, secretary John S. English and 13 vice presidents.

State Dean Rusk in late afternoon to complete work on the note. It will be a response to the Soviet memorandum handed to the United States during President Kennedy's meeting with Khrushchev at Vienna June 3-4.

Khrushchev's declared intent to sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany at the end of this year is viewed by the United States and its allies as a Red move to oust the Western powers from Berlin.

The Allies were reported fully united on their reply to Khrushchev.

The West takes the position that instead of centering on the Berlin problem there should be a broader settlement providing a permanent solution of the whole German problem, based on the principle of self-determination of the peoples involved.

Weekend Parley

Kennedy called Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, White House military adviser, to a meeting Saturday on Berlin at Hyannis Port, Mass., where the President is weekendizing.

The meeting is expected to last for several hours and deal with broad strategy questions in connection with the mounting German crisis.

Salingier said the meeting will not be of an "emergency type" and will not deal specifically with the U. S. reply to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's note outlining his intentions on Berlin.

Reds Block Attractions To W. Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—East Berlin's Communist rulers acted Friday against two Western attractions still within reach of their citizens — well-paying jobs and anti-Communist radio programs.

Mayor Friedrich Ebert's East Berlin government warned 50,000 East Berliners who work in the West that they must obey Communist law. They are required to register their place of work with Communist authorities.

The East Berliners also were told they had no right to new apartments if they took jobs in West Berlin.

There are persistent reports that Communist authorities, short of manpower themselves, want to end the practice of crossing the sector border to work. Jobs in West Berlin are much better paid than in the East, and there is much more to buy.

It was Ebert who Thursday told the Red-ruled People's Chamber that disorder in the East German supply system is "impossible and unpardonable."

The People's Chamber—or parliament—also put its rubber stamp on a reorganization of the East Germans' central planning system, apparently a result of the shortages. Three minor Cabinet ministers lost their jobs.

At the same session, Communist papers reported Friday, Interior Minister Karl Maron said he would do away with the U.S. radio station in West Berlin—once the East German leadership gets the peace treaty that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has promised. This powerful transmitter, often jammed by the Communists, has been heard throughout East Germany for the past 15 years.

The major event of Thursday's meeting was a 90-minute speech by Walter Ulbricht, the East German Communist leader. He called for neutralization of all Germany, and said he would move against West Berlin whether he got it or not. But he insisted his plans were all peaceful, and that he would not fight unless attacked.

Scripture—Matthew 4:18-20; Mark 3:14-19; John 1:35-44; 6:8-9; 12:20-22.

As John the Baptist stood with two of his disciples, Christ passed by and John identified Him as the Messiah. The two, one of whom was Andrew, followed Christ and He spent the day teaching them.—John 1:35-40.

Andrew immediately brought his brother, Simon, to meet Christ. As soon as He saw him, Christ said, "Thou art Simon... thou shalt be called Cephas (Peter), which is by interpretation, a rock."—John 1:41-42.

Jesus later saw the two brothers, who were fishermen, casting their nets. Said Jesus, "Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men." Immediately they left their nets and became His disciples.—Matthew 4:18-20.

As Christ discussed the problem of feeding His many followers, Andrew found a lad who had five loaves and two fishes, with which Christ miraculously fed all.—John 6:8-13. GOLDEN TEXT—Mark 1:17.

Today's Scripture Lesson

Andrew, A Fisher Of Men

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

ANDREW, a future disciple of Christ, comes first into the Biblical scene in the episode describe in John 1:35-44. Christ has not yet begun His ministry, but John, the Baptist, has been out preaching for some time, preparing the way for his Master.

As he stands talking with two of his disciples one day, Jesus passes by and John points Him out as the "Lamb of God."

Immediately John's disciples follow Jesus and when He addresses them, they indicate their desire to learn from Him by calling Him "Teacher" (Rabbi) and asking where He lives. They do not really care where He is living then, in His wanderings but rather suggest that they would like uninterrupted conversation with Him.

Christ's answer, "Come and see," indicates His immediate acceptance of the suggestion.

One of these two disciples of John was Andrew, a fisherman from the city of Bethsaida. Andrew seems to have been a born missionary, before he himself listens to Christ. "He first findeth his own brother Simon," tells him that the Messiah has been found, and takes him back with him to Jesus.

Thus we see that Andrew is as vitally concerned for the welfare of others (here, his brother) as for himself; that he does not merely talk about Christ, but actively brings Simon directly to the Source of truth:

that he starts his missionary work close to home, among those he knows best; and that he begins it immediately.

His missionary efforts are crowned with immediate success, as G. Campbell Morgan (in "Peloubet's Select Notes") suggests, with Christ's greeting of Simon. Apparently Christ recognizes in Simon a man whose motives are good but whose strength is sapped by indecision—as is the case with many of us.

With a single word He inspires Simon with faith in Him and in himself, by crediting him with the virtue he has not yet developed: "Thou shalt be called Cephas (Peter), which is by interpretation, 'a rock.' Simon is speechless with amazement.

The next episode chronologically—the calling of Andrew and Simon Peter by Christ to be His disciples (Matthew 4:18-20)—shows another attribute of Andrew's character—his great devotion to Christ and willingness to serve Him. "Straitway" he and Simon Peter left their nets and followed Him, realizing the overwhelming importance of His work.

(It is interesting to note that of Christ's 12 disciples, four were fishermen.)

The two remaining episodes from John indicate yet another characteristic of John—a certain approachable quality which led others to come to him and confide in him. In a way he acted as an intermediary between Jesus and the people.

When Christ is discussing with Philip the problem of feeding His five thousand followers, Andrew interrupts to tell him that a boy among them has five loaves and two fishes—information the boy must have volunteered to Andrew.—(John 6:8-9.)

When certain Greeks want to meet Christ (John 12:20-22), they come first to Philip. Philip, however, "cometh and telleth Andrew," persuading the latter to go with him to see Christ about the matter. Andrew, again the go-between, would seem to possess great tact and inspire much confidence.

It's A Ticklish Prospect

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

THE AMATEUR is sidling up to the "old pro" with the idea that they can work together. It's a ticklish prospect.

But that's the situation today as the government's eager, fledgling Peace Corps seeks to find its way into world humanitarian service, a field in which the churches already are practiced veterans on a huge scale.

They blazed the trail long ago, and have the know-how. Both government and church officials see the logic of novices in the business looking to the old hands for guidance. But such teamwork also raises the problem of keeping church and state functions independent.

Some church agencies are welcoming the new government partner, with a promise not to use him for preaching. Others staying aloof.

Rev. Dr. Earl S. Erb, head of the United Lutheran Church's Foreign Mission Board, termed it "utterly wrong" for the church to contract to do Peace Corps projects, since Christian evangelizing will be barred in connection with them.

The government, he said, "wants to make use of the existing religious channels to help the church without allowing the church to proclaim the gospel which, after all, is the church's primary mission."

However, the churches already perform much of this mission by plain good works, rather than direct proselytizing.

They've developed elaborate and far-flung machinery for carrying on just the sort of things the Peace Corps want to do—spreading health, education, technical skills and better living conditions.

Peace Corp Director R. Sargent

Shriver wants to draw on this wealth of experience and operational framework to get his recruits trained and working on a sour basis.

It's a big, skilled reservoir to draw on, 150 years in the making and involving a vast, bustling network of offices, training centers, warehouses, shipping units, hospitals, schools and other facilities around the globe.

More than 35,000 Americans—about 28,000 Protestants and 7,000 Roman Catholics—are serving as missionaries in 150 lands, living on subsistence pay, doing nearly every sort of job from digging irrigation ditches to teaching Braille.

There are engineers, agricultural technicians, social workers, language experts, carpenters, mechanics, bulldozer operators, well-diggers, nurses and doctors in 1,600 hospitals and clinics—all part of America's Christian missionary enterprise abroad. It's big business, costing more than $225 million a year—to help the backward, the sick and the weak. The Peace Corps, despite the flare of attention to it, is comparatively small, with a projected $40 million appropriation.

Shriver says more than half of this—about $26 million—will go for projects and personnel assigned under contract to voluntary private and to religious agencies, with sectarian promotion banned from the projects.

Most churches have hailed the objectives, but some have voiced misgivings about the church-government tie-ins, and about whether the missionary programs might thereby become associated with the international political power struggle.

Shriver insists the aim is strictly in behalf of human welfare. And that is a cause the churches also have pursued.

A far cry from the forty-niner with his pick or his pan. This man listens through earphones for the clatter of exploding atoms.

Otherwise, he must follow the tortuous path of the prospector. Uranium, like gold, is where you find it . . . high on a cliff . . . deep in a chasm . . . anywhere.

There are spiritual riches to be found in life—by those with the determination to seek them. But don't make the common mistake of assuming that one Sunday in Church should satisfy the search.

Spiritual riches come gradually with religious growth. As a family makes worship and religious study part of everyday living, the treasures of God begin to accumulate in the character and experience of that family.

You'll probably be disappointed if you merely give religion a try. But your earnestness will be rewarded when you make Christianity the foundation of your life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALLALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

People Submissive

Were it not for Berlin, Premier Khrushchev's latest on Russia's overtaking the United States by 1970 might sound like another variation of the standard Soviet theme.

But with the deepening crisis over Berlin, there could be a warning for the West in his notice that the Soviet system still places its own destiny ahead of the needs of its people. And the Russian populace has yet to show any overt unwillingness to accept the burden.

In Kazakhstan, amid reports of growing food shortages, the premier promised the Russians a standard of living superior to that of the West — not today or next year but a decade from now. Meanwhile, in Mr. Khrushchev's words, let the people eat horse meat.

If Mr. Khrushchev chose, he could quickly improve Soviet living standards by relaxing international tensions in order to substitute consumer goods for arms production.

That he has no reluctance to offer guns instead of butter is an indication of his confidence in the submissiveness of the Soviet people.

Meat may be short, the premier says, but what does that matter when "our Socialist Country — young, strong, organized, mobilized — is snapping at the heels of America!"

Here we have another illustration of the difference between the democratic and totalitarian systems. President Kennedy appeals for sacrifices by the people; Mr. Khrushchev imposes them.

Politics . . . and Strikes . . . Make Strange Bedfellows

The Pennsylvania Story

Harrisburg — Reporter's Notebook:

Legislative "Outbursts" — It's not intentional of course, but Pennsylvania's two legislative houses—the Senate and the House of Representatives—are almost but not quite neck-and-neck on the days-in-session count as they round into the homestretch of their annual legislative tour.

For example, up to the beginning of this week the House of Representatives had a total of 65 actual "legislative days" to its credit . . . The lower chamber won't be in session again until Monday so the count for the House as of the moment remains unchanged.

The story is a little different in the Senate however where up to the beginning of the week the Senate had logged a total of 58 legislative days—or seven actual "working days" behind their counterparts in the House.

But the Senate returned to Capitol Hill yesterday while House members stayed home, and yesterday's gathering will bring the upper house total up to 60 — thus reducing the House seven-day edge to five.

Curiously perhaps, most people think of the two houses as routinely sitting together — that is, when one is in session the other is too . . . While this is the case most of the time, it is not a hard and fast rule—as the in-session day totals for each clearly indicate . . . In fact, even when they do meet on the same days—they rarely convene at the same hour!

Sidelight — Of 2553 bills introduced so far in this 1961 session, 1893 bills are still in committee — 701 in Senate committees and 1192 in House committees . . . After six months of sessioning and with hopes for final adjournment this month, it isn't difficult to see what will happen to most of these bills still in committee!

Tactics Error! — Faces are somewhat at the blushing point up in the State Department of Internal Affairs these days — and perhaps understandably so. The other day the department in a formal announcement approved a $300,000 bond issue for the city of Chester . . . There's nothing wrong with this—except that the formal announcement read: "The City of Chester in Chester County."

This may be somewhat confusing to those Chesterites who have been in the habit of paying their county taxes to Delaware County — for truth it is, the city of Chester is not in Chester County but Delaware County!

Perhaps Chester should properly be placed in Chester County, but the confusion on this score—alas—isn't peculiar to Chester (city, that is) alone . . . It's like some of the other confusing geographical tangles found throughout the Commonwealth . . . For example:

The city of Franklin isn't found in Franklin County — it's in Venango County . . . Bradford isn't in Bradford County — it's in McKean County . . . It may be conceded though — Erie actually is in Erie County . . . Or at least it was the other day!

Blue Yonder Call — Pennsylvania, it seems, is a hot state for the Air Force recruitment people! . . . We discovered this fact much to our amazement the other day while attending a luncheon in downtown Harrisburg sponsored by the 3502D USAF Recruiting Group stationed at Olmsted Air Force Base at nearby Middletown.

The 3502D USAF Recruiting Group was celebrating the end of the fiscal (and recruiting) year at which time it was disclosed (with proper flapping of Air Force wings) that the local group led the entire nation in the recruitment of youths into the flyboy union — for a whopping total of more than 28,000 enlistees.

Of the eight states comprising the area served by the 3502D Group, Pennsylvania led the entire list with 9570 Air Force enlistees! . . . Next closest was West Virginia with 7835 . . . Chalk up another Pennsylvania first!

Fred Teeter, a stock car driver from Oxford, N.J., was killed on the track of the Delaware Valley Speedway, just north of East Stroudsburg. His car was hit, throwing him out of the car, and then rolled over the driver.

Negotiations in the labor dispute at Tobyhanna Signal Depot got underway today.

Donald Senack of Bangor won the third annual coaster derby in Bangor.

Monroe County Children's Aid Society had collected nearly $1,000 in its six - day drive for $4,000.

The car of Eugene Miller of East Stroudsburg was damaged slightly when it was struck from behind by a coal truck. Miller has stopped for the traffic light in East Stroudsburg.

How many remember in 1921 when Robert Brown Jr. was elected principal of the Stroudsburg High School?

Dizzy Dean turned his back on playing baseball and was to begin announcing the games over radio.

Repeated by Popular Demand: The inexperienced young backwoods teacher scratched his head when a school kid asked him for a definition of the word "alabaster."

Finally he admitted, "I'm not downright sure, but it might be an illegitimate Mohammedan."

Off The Record

By Bob Clark

Remember John Eaton? He was the East Stroudsburg carrot-topped boy who knew his music from A to Z and went on to soaring heights while a student at Princeton University.

Later the son of Methodist Church pastor and Mrs. Harold Eaton penned and played his way to one of the highest honors in his field—study abroad.

John wasn't one of those so-called piano - tuning virtuosos. He played and arranged the finest melodies in the land—jazz on classical, You name it and Eaton performed a skilled operation on the piece.

Today John is the toast of Rome. Time Magazine attests to this with a story, extolling Eaton and a clarinetist by the name of Bill Smith.

A visiting professor to a concert in Rome's 15th century Palazzo Pio was prompted to say of the American Jazz Ensemble (Eaton and Company) "These boys are hot. They are brilliant. They are right on top of the heap."

Johnny's quartet to quote Time has "set avant - garde beads to wagging the length of Italy."

The Jazz Ensemble prides itself on being "bilingual," mixing cool jazz with rigorously difficult works of Roger Sessions, Darius Milhaud and Eastburg's own Eaton.

The group likes to force its instruments to the outer limits. Eaton, for instance, favors dissonant jumps from one end of the keyboard to the other, violently plucking the piano's innards to get a harp effect.

According to the experts abroad, the ensemble's cool jazz style is out of this world. Eaton, their favorite subject, toys with harmonies and tempi and tempi and matches musical wits with the clarinet and trumpet.

They have been tagged the fantastic ones, after sending audiences away applauding their version of "Long Ago and Far Away" and "Summertime."

John has written an already lauded opera about the Ma Barker Mob. He says, "you need subhuman or superhuman characters in opera." He got this from the background of the notorious gun woman and her associates.

He is studying at the American Academy in Rome, composing on Prix de Rome and Guggenheim grants.

Eaton and Smith started the Jazz Ensemble for fun instead of profit. However, they have stirred up so much interest that all of their concerts have been sold out.

All we can add is local boy has made more than good.

The Allen-Scott Report

Unpaid Soviet Debts

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — Russia and its satellites owe more than $45.5 million in United Nations dues and assessments.

Of this big U N debt, the Soviet alone owes $34,247,000.

More than $3.5 million is for 1961 U N dues.

Last year, U.S. payments to the UN totaled $186,200,000. As against that, Russia contributed $18,200,000. Total

United Nations expenditures for 1961 were $334.7 million.

These significant details were obtained from the State Department by the House Appropriations Committee, which is preparing to consider President Kennedy's $4.8 billion foreign aid bill. The issue of the Soviet bloc's refusal to pay its share of UN costs will play an important part in the debate on that hotly controversial legislation.

Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Mass., ranking Republican member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, has served notice he will bring that up when the measure comes before that body.

Under the UN charter, the penalty for failure to pay assessments after two years is loss of voting rights. Some Iron Curtain defaults go back to 1957.

But the West has done nothing about these unpaid Red obligations because Nationalist China is behind on its UN dues, and France owes $4,339,414 as its share of U N peace operations in the strife - torn Congo.

Both France and Russia are balking at paying Congo assessments. This Soviet debt is $20,088,000.

Russia also owes $10,225,000 on its share of the UN police force in the Gaza Strip, and $369,000 for the UN Economic & Social Council (UNESCO). Russia also has given nothing to the Palestine refugee program.

U.S. payments for the latter total $25,310,000.

Current satellite indebtedness to the UN is as follows:

Ukraine, $1,479,000; Poland, $2,413,000; Czechoslovakia, $1,786,000; Byelorussia, $1,155,000; Romania, $737,000; Hungary, $507,000; Bulgaria, $245,000; Albania, $47,000.

Inside Argument — There is a sharp split among top State Department officials over demanding Iron Curtain payment of long - standing UN debts.

Secretary Rusk and Harlan Cleveland are opposed to pressing the matter. UN Ambassador Adlai Stevenson contends this should be done.

Basic of the Rusk - Cleveland contention is that Communist refusal to pay excludes them from a voice in these important UN operations.

Cleveland explained this backstage position in response to questions by Representative John Rooney, D-N.Y., at an Appropriations Committee meeting, as follows:

"Operations like the Congo become quite an important form of power. What makes it power is ultimately financial support. That's why we find it rather surprising that the Soviet has made what, it seems to us, is a serious error in not participating financially in this operation and, thereby, having any control over it. They are not in a position to pull the plug on the Congo operation."

"So far the Russians have taken the line they do not want any real power exercised by the United Nations. But if they were participating fully in these international operations and putting up their share of the funds, that would give them a considerable degree of power that they don't have now."

"The fact that the U.S. puts up a third of the funds in most of these operations is a form of power which, exercised at balancing points in world politics, is a tremendous factor of influence for our country. Personally, I favor doing nothing to make the Russians and their satellites pay up. As I see it, it is to our advantage for them to continue to default."

But Ambassador Stevenson took an exactly opposite viewpoint when questioned by Representative Rooney.

"The position of our government is that we hope the Soviet will not contribute to these UN operations," said Stevenson. "The fear is that if they do, the Kremlin will only cause trouble and frustrate the UN. I do not share that view."

"I believe we should make the Soviet pay for these ventures, even if it gives them a larger voice in their operations."

Movie stars who land in national mags make themselves national jokes. Readers have no regard for ingrates who knock Hollywood which made them rich and famous . . . Sandra Dee will have three marriages according to an astrologist. This could get him a punch on the nose from husband Bobby Darin . . . B. Bardot convinced one of her critics that she is an actress as well as the sexiest in "The Truth."

Lovely Carol Lawrence must be very sorry that she turned down the star role in Broadway's biggest musical hit, "Carnival" . . . All the hoopla about foreign-made movies is so much poopoo. Most of them are never shown over here. Too dull . . . Among her other talents Liz Taylor's photographic memory is the envy of colleagues. Memorizes scenarios just like that.

Shirley MacLaine, they say, is threatening to resign from showbiz to enjoy her husband, who produces films in Japan . . . (I just don't bleevit) . . .

What, On Radio?

When one travels on the road he might turn on the radio to listen to something. What he hears for miles and miles is Rock-in-Roll or hill-billy music, or perhaps a Polka in areas where there are Poles or the crooning of a hoarse Calypso singer or the terrible vocalizing of a woman who has cultivated what is called a "sultry" voice.

Then on comes what is called news. It is the reading of short, crisp bulletins which may give some indications of what is happening. The best of news reporting has moved from radio to television. However, the news is a relief from the music and there is of some value.

You might ask, why listen? It grows on one, I generally turn on good music while I work. By good music, I mean such as has survived time and taste like Mozart, Bach and so on. Sometimes intermingled with such offerings are some modern novelties which may prove interesting for the moment or some which may last a little longer, perhaps half a century or so.

Just now, up in the woods, my radio is bleating an awful Polka that would have driven Paderewski to change his citizenship. It is a Polka written by an American with a trifle of jazz in the rhythm and perhaps a bit of hillbilly in its overtones. It is a chop suey, a goulash, a rubbish.

Radio program planners believe that they know what the public taste is. Actually, the public did not have such bad taste until they listened to these efforts at musicalizing on radio. Back in the days of Williams and Walker, that grand team of vaudevillians, there used to be what were then called "coon-shouters."

They were singers who produced music in what was regarded as the Negro idiom. It was good listening although not quite as exciting as the sentimentalities of Gus Edwards.

Even today, we are singing "School Days," and a tear comes to the eye. I have even heard "Sweet Adeline" sung by a barber shop quartette and the audience went wild.

The QXR theory of programming is delightful and when FM is used, it justifies the existence of radio. I am told that several stations in various parts of the country are using the QXR format and are doing well financially which only goes to show that nobody can be an absolute authority on public taste. Good music is nowadays stylish.

There is considerable selfishness in the talk about what the public desires. It is like the advertising agency's man who objected to the use of the name of Abraham Lincoln because the Lincoln is a competing car. Such brilliance we can do without.

Radio can still be very useful, particularly as so many use it in their cars. That has not yet been invaded by television. In the current congressional investigation of radio and television, much has been said on both sides which is more excitement than mature judgment.

First of all, it must be recognized that there are no private property rights in the air. When we speak of a network, we refer to a private business which syndicates acts, shows, and whatever to stations scattered over the country.

It is true that the networks own some stations but most of them are not so owned. Many radio stations are owned by newspapers or by publishing syndicates which also own newspapers. Some are owned solo.

At this point it needs to be made clear that the ownership of a radio or television station does not give anyone the right to do anything about it. The airwaves are owned by the government of the United States which has exclusive authority over them.

The station-owner is licensed by the government to use a government-owned air-wave. The final decision as to what may appear on the airwaves rests with an agency of the government, the Federal Communications Commission which has, on the whole, behaved itself surprisingly well.

It has been moderate in its rules concerning censorship. It has not interfered too much with the conduct of stations or networks. While occasionally a network manager or an advertising agent would like to forget where the authority over radio and television rests, most of the stations obey the rules and regulations, even if their programming represents immaturity and bad taste.

Seven Juveniles Committed To Institutions By Court

SEVEN of 10 juveniles apprehended by East Stroudsburg police last month on a variety of charges were sentenced to institutions yesterday by Judge Fred W. Davis in Monroe County Juvenile Court.

Two of the others were released in the custody of their parents while the third was placed in a foster home. The 10 were charged with a variety of offenses including breaking and entering, burglary and larceny.

All had been held in Monroe County jail since Wednesday when they had preliminary hearings before Judge Davis. The seven were returned to jail pending transfer to the institutions to which they were sentenced.

Five were assigned to specific institutions. The destination of the other two will be decided after a check of facilities available at various institutions.

Parents Must Pay Costs

In addition, Judge Davis took the unusual step of directing the parents to pay the costs of institutional care for their sons. Ordinarily, such costs are paid by the county. Average cost of maintaining a youth at such an institution is about $30 a week.

In other court action yesterday:

Patricia Harrison Robinson, Stroudsburg, found guilty by a jury last year and sentenced Dec. 5, 1960, to 18 months in jail for larceny of money, was placed on probation for the remainder of her sentence.

Judge Davis directed her to make periodic payments on the $300 fine and costs levied against her and to arrange to make restitution.

She served her sentence in the women's quarters of Luzerne County prison at Wilkes-Barre.

Each Life Has Its Own Star

QUESTION: If The Daily Record was to publish your life's story what is one phase you would like them to emphasize?

Gaylord Heberling, Stroudsburg—The reason I have chosen police work as a career. This job is never the same in any two days and I enjoy meeting and helping people.

W. Tom Angel, Maidstone, Kent, England—The part music has played in my life. I receive so much enjoyment from playing the piano and singing. The boy who is now Queen Elizabeth's physician is the son of my music instructor.

Miss Martha Wagner, Kingston—My feeling towards art. I have recently resigned as an elementary teacher to return to college to study art.

Mrs. Helen Imperiale, Wilkes-Barre—The joy brought to the lives of my husband and myself with the birth of our son. The child gives me the feeling of wanting to live and instills in my husband the assurance of the family name being passed on to another generation.

Stand Is Burglarized

"BURGLARS broke into a refreshment stand on Route 611, near Tannersville, early yesterday morning, the owner Paul Cobb reported last night.

Early into the hot dog and milk shake establishment was gained through a 18-inch side service window.

Cobb estimated that the break-in occurred sometime between 12:30 and 5 p.m.

Only cigarettes were taken. However, Cobb said, a coke machine on the outside of the building was jimmied open, but he has no idea of the loss to this machine.

Beautification For Stroudsburg

AFTER many months of organizational activity and formal planning, the first of a series of beautification projects for the Stroudsburgs has been formulated by the Council For Area Beautification.

In the Fall, the council's first project (see sketch) will become a reality. Then in the ensuing months, following the completion of the initial projects, others will be planned and constructed throughout the area.

In its initial undertaking, the council plans to beautify the Stroudsburg side of the interborough bridge. Eventually both approaches will be given careful attention and beautifying make-up.

The plans call for the planting of trees and shrubbery along the right wall of the bridge, at the corner of Second and McConnell Sts., and along a short stretch of curbing from Main St. to McConnell Street.

Months Of Planning

These sites were selected after many months of planning. The Council felt that the specified areas are the most qualified to provide a good picture of CAB's aims when work is completed.

Although the council is new to many residents, it has already received enthusiastic approval from numerous prominent people and local organizations in the county.

The council is composed of representatives of area organizations including service clubs, business groups, scouting, clergy, chambers of commerce, women's clubs, borough councils, and the East Stroudsburg Planning Commission.

Funds Raised By CAB

All construction done by the council will be financed through contributions to a fund being raised by the CAB.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

With the perversity of human nature, I envy travelers when I have to stay home—but when I'm going away it seems as if the most interesting things are happening at home.

Caught up in the maelstrom of last minute preparations to leave for the fashion shows in New York, I could only "do" the Outdoor Art Show at a fast trot—but even so, it looked fascinating and the biggest, biggest ever—stretching all the way up beyond Court-house Square.

And the Book Fair was the busiest ever. What seemed most fascinating of all to some one who couldn't stop were the knots of people all up and down the street in interested conversation with the artists. Shades of Via Margherita.

Then there's the big "brunch" I'll be missing on Sunday, and the York Guest Days at Glen Brook, and—well, from the looks of things you're going to be all happily busy the whole time I'm gone. This time, I'm going prepared.

When you visit New York in the summer, you don't take summer clothes—no, unless you want to freeze to death in the cold, pure calm of air-conditioned New York Hotels. I learned my lesson, the year we had to wrap up in the Waldorf Astoria's pink tablecloths to keep our feet from freezing while we typed our stories.

Anyway, you lose all sense of season what with heavy winter woollens and fabulous fur parading up and down the run-ways, the artificial lights and artificial noise. It always comes as a real shock to come home to find that it's still Summer. Somehow you expect the leaves to be turning.

So have fun—Summer fun—for me too while I'm skipping ahead into Autumn.

Farewell Party For Pastor At Canadensis

Canadensis—Bright tartan kilts in the Hay clan plaid costume Mr. and Mrs. John Hay during their demonstration of Scotch folk dancing at the congregational family night Wednesday, June 28.

Members of the congregation, from the littlest members to the elders joined in the social rooms of the Canadensis Moravian Church for the farewell festivities. Retired minister, Rev. George Weinland acted as master of ceremonies and presented the gifts to the Eichmans. A tape recorder was presented to the departing pastor by the congregation. Members of the pastor's Sunday School class, with Donna Fulmer as their representative gave the minister a desk set marked “Pocono Mountains” to remind him of his class here. A summer pocket-book, presented to Mrs. Eichman by Mrs. M. H. Williams, was the choice of the Ladies Guild.

A buffet was served to the crowd of families.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hay, both members of the Hay Clan in Scotland had worn their kilts for the occasion and after an area had been cleared, recordings of bagpipe music were played. The couple swung out in the intricate steps of the “figure walk” and the Scottish “square-dance.”

The Wyckoff Shopper

the friendly store

A.B. Wyckoff

STROUBSBURG, PA.

I've been wandering today on my lunch hour. Not very far from home base, to be sure. Right here at my desk, as a matter of fact, thanks to a magazine (Woman's Day, July 61) sent me by Mary Krieg, the very nice wife of that very nice John, who is manager of Glen Brook. Mary had marked a place that might interest me—an article called “Treasure Towns, U.S.A.” the second subject of which is Cooperstown, N.Y. There are pictures that made me somewhat homesick for the site of last year's vacation—the cottages and mansions dating back to the 1700s, the scene of Lake Front Park, overlooking Otsego Lake which is the beautiful “Gimmerglass” of James Fenimore Cooper's “Leatherstocking Tales”; and the picture too, of the Farmer's Museum buildings where I attended courses in old furniture, old gardens, etc.

But I didn't stop my wandering just with Cooperstown. Thanks to Mary, I visited Portsmouth, New Hampshire; Georgetown, S.C.; Sausalito, Calif., and perhaps my favorite, San Antonio, Texas. I wish I might tear over to our Wyckoff Travel Bureau right this minute and buy a ticket for a tour that would encompass all four. If YOU'RE yearning to travel, WHY DON'T YOU?

I also did some traveling around our store yesterday, and found a few items in Amy Eilenberger's department that might delight all my fellow travelers (vacationing variety, of course—not parlor pinks!) One is a daintily printed plastic envelope, of frosted texture on the outside and clear lucite inside, that unfolds to reveal a small, oval Whiz-Away lint brush and a miniature sewing kit, as well as an inflatable travel hanger of a size for either women's or men's garments. This is plastic too with an air tube at the side, and one can make it a variety of sizes as desired. The hook at the top is of metal. Quite clever . . . quite useful . . . quite inexpensive. Just 1.00.

Cute too, are the 1.00 packets by Tub-Ums containing all-plastic scuffs and matching shower cap, of floral design. Wear them at the pool . . . in the bath . . . or around the boudoir. They're light as a feather and smartly styled.

It is, of course, almost impossible to think of travel without thinking of brides . . . bridegrooms . . . and honeymoons. Quite the loveliest gown and peignoir set I have seen this summer is now on display in our lingerie department priced at only 25.00. It is white, naturally . . . and also, quite naturally, that most delicate-looking but sturdy of fabrics, nylon. The gown has a flatteringly draped bodice, separated by the upswEEP of a pointed midriff. The skirt is full, with nylon tricot underskirt. The peignoir is un-collared, but has puffed sleeves and is trimmed by two V-shaped rows of white embroidery in a motif resembling the ruffle on a nose-gay. Inside of this are tiny touches of delicate pink, simulating flowers. This same embroidery is used lavishly on the midriff of the gown. Personally, I think the set exquisite, and, if, my daughter were a bride, I'd manage somehow to have it in her trousseau.

Looking back over this column, it seems almost everything I've mentioned is either a set or a package deal. So, here's another of the latter: the new Bernat packets of fashion goodies to be purchased in our arts goods department by those who like to look smart and also like to knit. One, ideal for the young business girl or student, is the Beau Catcher—a long torso pullover of gaily scrambled colors that can be “started before noon and worn at night.” The complete makings for this adorable young, rather kookie creation are 2.98. Another packet contains all that is needed to make a Hong Kong Cable Sweater “soft as cashmere in Bernat Nylo Sportsyarn.” Each kit contains enough for either a man's or woman's sweater and costs only 4.98. Very glamorous for party-time wear is the sequin jacket, which Bernat sells, ready to knit, in another packet at 13.95.

Sweater, Sweater in a ball . . . Who wears sweaters best of all?

“Anyone they're made to fit . . . CUSTOM MADE . . . OF BERNAT KNIT.”

Add Enough Living Area To Your Home On Budget Prices

NOT ENOUGH living area in the home has become an increasing problem for families across the nation. Research figures show that their present home is too small for their family and that they long for an extra room they can use for casual living and entertaining.

Purchase of a larger home may be impossible because of family income and many other reasons; but adding an extra bedroom, bathroom, family room or den inexpensively would be a welcomed relief for most homeowners.

In many homes space to convert into new living areas can be found in an existing garage, carport, basement or attic. Manufacturers have recognized the need for economical products to answer family expansion needs and have developed products most homeowners can use without special skills or tools. You can now increase your home's living area at budget prices using these newly developed prefabricated building materials and components.

Construction of a new wall once was difficult and expensive. Today because of modern research and product development you can purchase a component parts which result in a wall more solid than a conventional stud wall, with acoustical and insulating advantages, and with a stainproof, washable, maintenance-free vinyl surface.

The room shown in the color illustration is an excellent example of what can be done to an existing carport or garage, an unfinished basement or attic. A room can be added where one had never been before.

This room designed for Simpson Timber Company by San Francisco designer and interior decorator Delena Bair, A.I.D., offers many ideas for homeowners.

Miss Bair selected materials for this room on the basis of economy and simplicity of installation; all are recommended for the average do-it-yourselfer. If the homeowner prefers to have a contractor complete the work, he can still save up to 50 per cent on labor cost since the products are factory finished.

remodeling a room, it is best to start with the ceiling. Miss Bair used Forestone Fissured wood-fiber acoustical ceiling tile which can be cemented to a suitable solid level backing. If the ceiling is unfinished or uneven, it is best to add furring strips of seasoned, soft, straight wood, 1 inch by 3 inches, across the joists. The tiles are then stapled to the furring strips. They come with tongue and groove edges which facilitate application.

For construction of a new wall a revolutionary new product called Easy Wall partition was used to simplify the task. These random planked partitions are 1 1/2 inches thick and 2 feet by 8 feet and 2 feet by 10 feet in size. Wood grain vinyl film is laminated to hardboard on both sides of a rigid core of insulating board. This provides a maintenance-free wall that is impact resistant, will not stain, fade or scuff, can be easily washed, and that has sound attenuating and insulation advantages.

To construct a new wall using these new components, plywood strips are nailed to the floor and ceiling and finish moulding is applied to one side. The partitions easily slide into place, are joined with thick plywood splines, and are secured with long nails hammered through finish moulding.

If wiring is to be incorporated in this new wall, a groove can be cut in the bottom of the partition to fit the approved type of wiring cable. This cable can be run up the joint groove beside the splines and outlet boxes fitted at the joints.

Insulated Backing
On existing walls, matching random planked paneling 3/4-inch thick, prefabricated one side, and also in 2 feet by 8 feet and 2 feet by 10 feet sizes was used. This also has an insulating board backing which may be applied to a solid backing with acoustical cement, or stapled to furring strips. A flange joint insures a tight fit and eases application.

Using all prefabricated materials eliminates the ordinary mess and delays of finishing a room interior. Once everything is in place it is ready for occupancy.

Miss Bair chose the decorator-design Concerto Symphonie door because of its unique panel arrangement. The door, designed by International-known Walter Dorwin Teague Associates, was easily installed in the normal manner. Note how the decorator duplicated the appearance of the door in the overhead panel. The room can be furnished according to the preference of the homeowner.

Further information on any of these materials may be obtained by writing Simpson Timber Company, 2040 Washington Building, Seattle, Washington.

Build Yourself Fireplace And Learn How To Relax

READING the memoirs of great men, one frequently discovers the secrets that helped them weather the long and hard road each traveled. Winston Churchill, a giant among giants found relaxation and peace of mind laying bricks, building garden walls and walks.

The biography of every successful person emphasizes their need for physical work and the satisfaction each derived from a hobby requiring a lot of physical effort.

To obtain the strength they required to meet monumental problems, they relaxed the mind while they exercised the body. In doing this they discovered the link that kept them physically equal to the task of living.

Proves Destructive
When one forces the mind day after day without relieving the tension through normal physical effort the imbalance proves destructive.

The build-it-yourself fireplace pattern offered above provides one way everyone can start to relax. The pattern was designed for the person who has never laid bricks, let alone build a fireplace, and explains every step in language everyone can easily follow.

Building this fireplace opens two doors to better living. The physical effort required to bend up and down, mixing concrete, laying each brick; and the concentration required to place each brick accurately in position, provides complete release from nervous tension. Almost

BE SURE IT'S EXTERIOR

Latex paints are excellent for use on outdoor cement, concrete brick or asbestos cement surfaces. Be sure, however, that you use a latex formulated for exterior use. Ordinary wall paint won't stand up under the buffeting of rain, snow and sun.

TAKES A LOT

More than 6500 different raw materials are used by the chemists of the paint industry to produce the many long-lasting quality paints we use to protect and beautify our homes, furniture, autos, appliances and countless other possessions.

everyone who works with his hands soon discovers certain areas in and around the home where, through physical effort, they have created "zones of contentment." Try painting a room, a house, build a garage, fireplace or tool house and you'll capture some of this magic.

Send 50c in check, coin or money order for Superchef Barbecue, Pattern No. 316 to The Daily Record, P. O. Box 215, Pleasantville, N. Y. A smaller outdoor barbecue, No. 73 is also available at 50c. Send additional 35c for new catalog illustrating over 300 other projects.

Beauty Provides Bonus

THE HOME that is well maintained and periodically improved often brings a much higher resale price than the owner's total investment.

Often, a home improvement project undertaken to add comfort, beauty or convenience provides the homeowner with an unexpected bonus in the form of financial gain.

Ideal for Fix-Up
The "Hot Blast" Paint Scraper, a new propane torch that blisters and peels off old paint in one easy operation, has recently been introduced by Turner Corporation of Sycamore, Illinois. This ne wrightweight unit consists of a small cylinder of propane gas, burner assembly and steel scraper blade.

Easy to handle, this new paint scraper offers one hand operation as it quickly peels off many layers of old paint. The scraper unit and replaceable fuel cylinders are available at most hardware stores.

The amount that a remodeling job adds to the home's value depends on how badly the home needed that improvement. An added bedroom is of greater value in a two-bedroom home, for example, than in a home that already had six or eight bedrooms.

Here are some of the remodeling jobs that should prove to be

Convert Porch To A Room

NOSTALGIC or not, after a sticky-hot summer day, there's something very pleasant about relaxing in the one spot that seems to get the evening's first coolness. Many homeowners find the same spot equally relaxing during the rest of the year.

Modern convertible window units make it practical and economical to have screen porch comfort in summer and a snug, extra room during the winter too, according to the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information. Prime window units can be installed in series and screened for summer ventilation. Case-ment sash offer 100 per cent ventilating area, awning types and jalousies only slightly less. Double hung windows of course can open 50 per cent of the total area to summer zephyrs.

Easily Installed
Triple track, vertical sliding units, designed specifically for enclosing porches, can simplify the job for the homeowner who wishes to do his own work. Weatherstripping for cozy comfort in winter, the three track sash can be adjusted up or down to take advantage of the slightest breeze in summer, and they're individually removable for easy cleaning and painting, too.

For winter use, there is the heating problem to consider. You may be able to extend your existing heating system without putting too heavy a load on the unit. There are various types of space heaters that will heat one room efficiently. For an extra room used intermittently, a fireplace or a Franklin stove might be the best answer. Whatever the method, thorough insulation of the room will lower the heating costs. Any additional electrical facilities that will be required are most easily installed during the conversion.

How To Finish
Once enclosed, the porch-room can be finished with any standard materials suitable to the construction: Kente vinyl asbestos tile floor is a concrete slab, or Kente solid vinyl on proper underlayment over the old wood floor boards. Interior wall surfacing could be almost anything: wood paneling, gypsum wallboard, pre-decorated hardboard. Insulating tiles are often a good choice for resurfacing the old ceiling.

good investments for your home if they are not already present:

1. A second bath or powder room.
2. Modern kitchen.
3. Central, automatic heating and cooling.
4. An additional bedroom.
5. Playroom or family room.
6. Carpeting and vinyl floors.
7. Built-ins.

PIDA Bill Signed By Lawrence

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence has signed a bill designating the state Commerce Department and the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority to act as the state's agent in the new federal distressed areas program.

In a statement issued with the signing of the bill, the governor said:

"Pennsylvania took the lead in trying to help its own distressed areas when Gov. Leader signed PIDA into law in 1956. Since then, we have been remarkably successful in our attempt to stem the tide of joblessness.

"In the five years of its existence, PIDA has helped to finance 157 projects with loans of $18,655,723. Those loans, put to work with money from local development groups and financial institutions, have created jobs for 27,953 Pennsylvania workers. Additional millions of private capital was used and put to work in constructing these plants. Most important of all, PIDA has created estimated annual payrolls totaling nearly one hundred million dollars."

A CONTRACT to build a new East Stroudsburg State College athletic field was awarded to Hugh Boyd, Inc., of West Conshohocken, on Thursday.

The Boyd firm was low bidder with $59,840, and the contract was awarded by the General State Authority.

The field is being built to replace a training area where a new dormitory is to be erected. The project includes sloping, tree removal, drainage construction and the resurfacing of nearby driveways.

Fields for football, baseball, soccer, and other athletic activities will be laid out by the college after the Authority project is completed.

Paid Rest For Workers

1.7 MILLION workers were covered by provisions for paid rest periods according to a study of 1,687 collective bargaining agreements covering 7.5 million workers just published by the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Detailed information on rest periods and on military leave, washup, and work clothing provisions for practically all agreements covering 1,000 or more workers, except among railroads and airlines, is provided by the report according to the Bureau's Regional Director, Louis F. Buckley.

The formal provisions on rest periods probably do not reflect the full extent of the American Institution of the coffee break. Informal arrangements and legal requirements for rest periods applicable to women workers lessen the need for specific contract coverage.

Piersall Clowns In Infield Also

JIM PIERSALL may have been upset about not being picked on the American League All-Star team but he didn't show it Wednesday when the Cleveland Indians visited Yankee Stadium for a day game.

Piersall, who is out of the line-up for a few days with an injured leg, worked out as shortstop in the Indians' pre-game drills.

Piersall had the Stadium crowd roaring with his antics at the infield post. He hauled in every ball hit to him but instead of throwing to first base in the normal fashion, he whipped the ball behind his back (Bob Cousy style) to Vic Power at first. Piersall's arm was so accurate in reverse gear, that Power did not have to move for any of the tosses.

It was Jim's final fielding assignment that earned him a booming applause from the crowd. He scooped up a slow roller and cocked his arm as if to throw the ball right through Power. Instead of throwing, Piersall raced from his shortstop post across the diamond toward first, the ball held as if he were about to put it into orbit.

Jim stopped about two feet from Power, who wasn't sure if Piersall was clowning or not. When Power tried to cover himself with his arms to ward off the almost sure to come fastball, Piersall merely rolled the ball along the ground and trotted to the dugout, laughing as hard as most of the spectators.

Mantle In Bad Mood All Day

Mickey Mantle was in no laughing mood when he entered the Stadium some two hours earlier.

A crowd of about 200 kids surrounded Mantle pleading for autographs. One youngster tried to snap a photo of Mantle but the Mick wasn't interested.

Mantle barged through the crowd to the players entrance without even a word to the kids and some of the comments made about Mantle by older fans on the outside of the crowd were to the brutal side.

And Mantle was still mad when Cleveland hurler Frank Funk walked him after Roger Maris had connected for his 32 home run. "He's burned up because Maris is getting the homers and he's getting the walks," said Funk in the dressing room after the game.

Wall Visits Trainer For Leg Injury

Art Wall, Pocono Manor's circuit professional golfer was a spectator at the Yankee-Indian game but Wall would probably have preferred not to have been there.

A recurrence of a groin injury has sidelined Art for three or four weeks and he was in New York to take heat treatments from the Yankee's trainer.

Art is fighting to make the 10-man Rider Cup team, which will battle a similar British pro team in November. Art is in sixth place now, with four tournaments left to decide the team. If he could get back on the tour to play in one or two of the events, he would stand an excellent chance of making the team. If he can't play in any of the four tournaments, his only chance of making the team is that the players below him in the standings don't make too well.

Art and his son were the guests of Yankee pitcher Ralph Terry at the game.

Basketball Shooting Meet Draws 32 at Playground

A BASKETBALL shooting contest was held on Thursday at the Stroudsburg Playground. Thirty-two boys participated.

The contest consisted of ten set shots from a specified area and 15 foul shots.

John Frisbie won in the young age group with 13 of 25; Freddy Franz won in the 14-15 bracket with 16 of 25. Skip Kintz was second in the 12-13 age group and Dave Pierson was runner-up in the 14-15 bracket.

19 Softball All-Stars Are Picked

NINETEEN players from four teams have been picked to play on the Monroe County Softball League All-star team.

E. Wells and L. Fish will catch; at first base, H. Strunk and W. Smith; at second base, D. Miller and D. Posten; at shortstop, T. Salerno and W. Mosteller; at third base, J. Manson and H. Pfeifer; in left field, G. Van Why and J. Strouss.

In center field will be D. Transue and H. Bess; in right field, J. Possinger and J. Frailay, and pitching will be B. Lester, S. Strunk, J. Hahn.

Four players are from Olympio-Keipers, three from the Half Moon Tavern, five from the Lackawanna Hotel, and seven from Three-Ring-Petes. A game scheduled next Wednesday between Three Ring and Lackawanna Hotel will be played Friday, July 12.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Barry Latman pitched shutout ball and Willie Kirkland hit a two-run homer as the Cleveland Indians snapped a four-game losing streak with a 9-0 victory Friday night over the Chicago White Sox.

Two Eagle Backs Re-Ink For 1961

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Linebacker Bob Pellegrini and half-back Tim Brown have signed 1961 contracts with the Philadelphia Eagles, the National Football League champions announced Friday.

Pellegrini is recovered from injuries that kept him out of six games and the title meeting with Green Bay, while Brown, a punt and kickoff return specialist, probably will be used as a running halfback and pass catcher this season.

Law Sidelined Six Weeks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Vernon Law, whose 20 victories last season helped lead Pittsburgh to the championship, will be lost to the Pirates for at least six weeks because of a sore shoulder, the ball club said Friday.

After Dr. Albert B. Ferguson Jr., an orthopedic specialist, examined the veteran right-hander for 20 minutes, the Pirates asked the National League office to place him on the 30-day disabled list.

"Dr. Ferguson has informed us that the tendons in the back of his right shoulder are swollen and still sore," a club spokesman said. "The doctor says Law must give the shoulder a complete rest for a minimum of six weeks."

Law finished the regular season last year with a 20-9 record and won two games in the World Series against New York. He received the Cy Young award as he was voted the best pitcher in the majors.

This year, however, he has only a 3-4 mark and has pitched sparingly since April 29 when he injured the rotator muscle in his shoulder. Law took the decision to put him on the disabled list as something he "just has to accept." He said: "It's for the best the way things have turned out. I haven't been any help to the ball club. I think the shoulder will be all right, though. It's just a matter of time. We've tried just about everything that could be tried. Sometimes Mother Nature has to take over." Law, whose salary is reportedly in the neighborhood of $40,000, said he'd go home to Boise, Idaho, within a week.

"If I stick around here," he explained, "I'll probably be hanging around Forbes Field and throwing a ball once in a while to see how the arm feels." It's possible that Law won't be back with the Pirates the rest of the season. According to Law, Manager Danny Murtagh told him the other day: "If we're in the pennant race when this (the shoulder trouble) is all over, we'll call you. If not, maybe we'll let you rest the remainder of the season."

Yanks Score Top Total Over Bosox

NEW YORK (AP)—Elston Howard drove in four runs and Bobby Richardson and Roger Maris each batted in three Friday night as the New York Yankees ran up their top run total of the season and clobbered the Boston Red Sox 14-3 behind southpaw Bud Daley.

Only Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron failed to collect an RBI among the starters as the Yanks unloaded 16 hits against lower Gene Conley (3-7) and three relievers.

Daley (7-10), winning his third in five decisions as a Yankee after coming to New York from Kansas City, gave up eight hits. He had a three-hit shutout until Jim Pagliaroni opened the seventh inning with his 11th home run. That ended a string of 14 scoreless innings by Yankee pitchers. The Yanks, who also ripped off four double plays while gaining their seventh victory in the past eight games, broke loose for six runs in the second inning before Conley could get a man out.

Prepare For Lightweight Tilt

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Paulo Rosi and Irish Jackie Donnelly skipped through their warmups Friday in preparation for their 10-round meeting with the New York state lightweight boxing championship at stake Saturday night.

The veteran Rosi has been installed a 7-5 favorite for the nationally televised bout (ABC, 9 p.m., EST) in Memorial Auditorium.

Rosi, looking for another chance at Joe Brown's lightweight title, took over ninth place in the division after an upset decision over fourth-ranked Len Matthews two months ago.

Rosi, who has won 33 of his 44 fights, lost to Brown on a TKO in 1959 when the champion opened up cuts over both eyes.

Donnelly has lost only to Bobby Scanlon in 26 pro fights.

Change Meet Date

THE "Ridge Runners" held their weekly meeting on June 29. The meetings will be held every Thursday at 7 p.m. until September. Tuesday night meeting will resume after the drag racing season ends.

Palmer, Player Tour British Open Links

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer

BIRKDALE, England (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Gary Player, the two leading money winners in the United States, forgot their rivalry Friday and gave each other tips on how to master the tricky Birkdale course during the British Open Golf championship starting Monday.

They went out together in a practice round, often exchanged views on how to play difficult holes and advised each other on which clubs to use.

Palmer, former U.S. Open and Masters champion, found the greens tricky and decided to spend the rest of the day trying to straighten out his putting game. "I missed some putts early and suddenly lost interest," said Palmer, of Latrobe, Pa. "I'm not satisfied with my form at the moment but I'll get it all straightened out before Monday."

Player, 25-year-old South African and current holder of the U.S. Masters crown, said: "I had a very good round and hit some fine shots. I went around in about 68. Palmer had about 73."

Palmer and Player are favorites in the 101st British Open, which has drawn a field of 369 golfers from 19 countries.

Palmer heads a 16-man challenge from the United States. Qualifying rounds will be played Monday and Tuesday with a maximum of 120 players going forward.

The field will be cut to a maximum of 50 for the final two rounds on Friday.

Kinder, Bickel Share PPGA Lead With 78

JOHN Serafin, Fox Hill Country Club, West Pittston, won his first Pocono Professional Golfers Association tournament Friday by posting a one-over par 71 at the Harkers Hollow Golf Club in Phillipsburg, N.J.

Serafin, a long-hitting former touring pro, had nine hole scores of 35 and 36. He was the only pro to match par on either side of the semi-mountaintous 70-par course.

Weingart, who puts with a

45-year-old blade, finished in a tie for second with best pro Ted Bickel, whose dad is a golf professional in Chester. Both had 74's.

Weingart, who has not had a birdie in 40 holes of PPGA play, depended on his antique putter to get him through tight spots, while Bickel parlayed his booming tee shots and fine long iron game for his four-over par score.

Sam Kinder, Water Gap golf professional, finished in fifth place with a 77, but still managed to hold on the point lead. Kinder now has 78 points, but his finish was not enough to keep him alone at the top of the point race.

Bickel's finish gave him 15 points and a tie for the point lead with Kinder. Both have 78 points. Weingart moves from fourth-to third place, overtaking his co-pro at Tamiment, Vince Yanovitch.

In the pro-am division Friday, Serafin and his team of three amateurs, John Sekera, M. Roth, and L. Hoch, placed first with 63. In second place was Bickel and his team of Charles Giordano, Charley O'Hay, and Frank Ford.

Dick Smith, golf pro at Indian Mountain, Kresgeville, and his amateurs of Dr. Ben Falcone, T. Buckley, and C. Fulton, finished third with 64.

ENCORE FOR "RAGTIME"—Back in America's ragtime era (1900-1917) most towns had a bandstand—like this one in the "Project 20" production of "Those Ragtime Years"—where Saturday night concerts featured cake-walks and two-steps. The program, which critics cheered when it was first broadcast by NBC-TV last Fall, will be encored Tuesday, July 11, from 10-11 p.m. It spotlights the real classic ragtime—"the genuine article," host Hoagy Carmichael calls it.
